NOTES FROM THE RABBI/HAZZAN

I suppose you couldn't blame Tu B'shvat if it developed an inferiority complex. The other holidays have their special prayers, unique foods, ancient traditions, rules and regulations. Tu B'shvat, the New Year of the Trees, has its foods, its traditions, and its liturgies but they are all relatively new and open to interpretation. The custom of holding a Tu B'shvat Seder had its origins with the mystics, but none of the prayers, readings, or foods are set in stone. While every Tu B'shvat observance centers around nature/agriculture in general and trees in particular, the variety of different rituals, themes, and degree to which they parallel the better-known Pesach version is all over the map. But despite the confusion, I happen to think that Tu B'shvat is one of the most important holidays we have. All the rest of our holidays are either mitzvot which were commanded by G-d in the Torah or are a commemoration of some historical or cultural event. Tu B'shvat, the 15th of the month of Shvat, commemorates a change of season; a seemingly random choice of a date where winter begins to turn to spring in Israel. (Hillel and Shammai disagreed on the date in the Talmud, but, what else is new?) But since it celebrates something which is yet to be, Tu B'shvat is a holiday of tremendous faith. We trust that G-d's seasonal cycles will continue to operate as they should, and we celebrate the bounty that nature provides. Even more importantly, however, in most modern Tu B'shvat sedarim, we recognize our role in preserving and maintaining the blessing of resources we have. That makes Tu B'shvat one of the most forward-thinking holidays we have. Tu B'shvat looks to the future rather than symbolically remembering the past. On Yom Kippur we review our past year in order to ensure our future. On Pesach, we remember slavery to better appreciate freedom. On Sukkot and Shavuot we are grateful for what we have. On Tu B'shvat, we renew our commitment to protect and maintain the planet. Last spring will never come again. But it is up to us in partnership with G-d to ensure that future springs will.

I hope you will be able to join us on Sunday evening, February 9 at 6:30pm. KZ and RCOS will be joining together for a festive Tu B'shvat seder. In the meantime, think about what you can do to hold up your end of the bargain with G-d. Plant a tree, both in Israel and here. Recycle. Reduce your carbon footprint, and support businesses and causes which do so. And on Tu B'shvat, be sure to wish your favorite tree a Shana Tova!

Rabbi/Hazzan David B. Sislen

The Prez Sez

Dr. Jennifer Koosed

If your New Year's resolution is to get more involved with your community, here is your chance! You have all received word that Kesher Zion's bookkeeper Gayle Kastenbaum has retired. Gayle was more than the synagogue's bookkeeper. She also volunteered endless hours to the synagogue through her work in Sisterhood, as chair of the House Committee, and in countless other ways. Although the office work is being covered by Herbein + Company and Lenore Meyerson, other tasks still await the right person.

Kesher Zion needs someone who would like to lead the House Committee. Even though we no longer have our own building, there are still a number of projects that need to be done to make 555 Warwick Drive truly our home. You can choose to chair the Committee, or just take one of the projects through to completion. Any level of commitment will be much appreciated.

Kesher Zion also needs someone to lead the Membership Committee. If you like meeting new people, this is the volunteer opportunity for you. There are a few people ready to work on this important committee and many new ideas have already been generated—all we need is a chair to take the lead. I can still remember when Harriet Leisawitz reached out to me when I first arrived in Reading. A warm welcome to Reading and to Kesher Zion can make all the difference.

A few years ago, Cindy Balchunas gave a High Holiday appeal that focused on giving time. She asked you to answer, "hineni, here I am," when you hear the call. Who will respond "hineni" today?

The oldest daughter of revered composer/conductor Leonard Bernstein offers a rare look at her father on the centennial of his birth in a deeply intimate and broadly evocative memoir. An intoxicating tale, Famous Father Girl is an intimate meditation on a complex and sometimes troubled man, the family he raised, and the music he composed that became the soundtrack to their entwined lives. Deeply moving and often hilarious, Bernstein's beautifully written memoir is a great American story about one of the greatest Americans of the modern age.

Kesher Zion hosted its 5th Annual Tricky Tray on Sunday, Dec. 8. with about 90 people in attendance. The social hall doors opened at noon to tables overflowing with a tempting array. Participants purchased tickets in hopes of winning a variety of over 140 prize baskets, ranging from instant pots, massages, and restaurant gift cards to doctor visits, hockey tickets, and tickets to Broadway! The excitement mounted as Christine Cieplinski began calling the winning tickets at 1:00. Everyone went home a winner, whether winning an actual prize or enjoying a fun afternoon with friends!

A big "thank you" to the many volunteers who solicited and donated prizes. This event wouldn't have been a success without your help! Thanks also to our ticket and food sellers Debbie Cieplinski, Rochelle Mann, Robert Schneier, Karen and Myron Kabakoff, Cindy Balchunas, Jessica Martin, photographer Michelle Taylor, chefs Michael Farrara and Michael Robinson, and emcee Christine Cieplinski, who kept everyone laughing throughout the afternoon. With your help and participation, the 5th Annual Tricky Tray was an entertaining and successful fundraising event!

KZ Cemetery

The Board of Directors of the Keshar Zion Cemetery is pleased to advise the congregation that the planned improvements to the cemetery have now been completed. During the summer we reconstructed and freshly paved the entrance to the cemetery as well paving the external driveway. We also sealed the various major cracks in the internal walkways located throughout the cemetery. Finally, we have placed stone markers throughout the cemetery to assist in locating specific rows. We hope these improvements make your visitations to the cemetery safer and easier for you. If you have any questions about any of these items or the cemetery in general please do not hesitate to contact the synagogue office at (610) 374-1763.
